

JOHN C. SPOONER'S RETURN TO THE UNITED STATES SENATE ASSURED

Wisconsin Voters Make Sure of Retaining the Services of the Brilliant Senior Senator, by Electing State Senators and Assemblymen Who Are Pledged to Him.

From present indications Senator Spooner will be re-elected at the next session of the legislature for six years more to succeed himself. The present count of the prospective legislature shows very clearly that the republicans have a vast majority and will without doubt re-elect Senator Spooner to the exalted position he now holds.

BIG MAJORITY ASSURED
Out of the 100 members of the legislature seventy-nine are thus far reported as republican and twenty-one as democratic. Of these seventy-nine all but twenty are pledged by the convention that nominated them to vote unconditionally for Senator Spooner, so his return seems certain even if the twenty voted with the democrats.

SPOONER IS PLEASED
Senator Spooner is much pleased over the election of the legislature and this morning expressed himself as so over the telephone. His brother, Mr. P. L. Spooner said that from the present outlook the senator's election seemed certain.

LA FOLLETTE WAS VERY ANXIOUS
Last night Governor LaFollette was very anxious to secure the full returns from Rock county and called up this city several times through his clerks. He especially wanted to know as to the legislature and how large the majorities were.

GREAT GAINS MADE BY REPUBLICANS

Results of Yesterday's Election Forecast Larger Republican Majorities Than Ever in 1904.

(Special by Scripps-Mellae.)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 5.—Out of the forty-six states that held elections thirty of them are to be found in the republican columns and sixteen in the democratic. Gains are shown in many of the republican states over the vote of 1898 and as off years are indications of the presidential campaigns it is a fair estimate that the republican majorities in 1904 will be larger than ever. Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Minnesota, New Jersey, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia are all carried by the republicans by increased majorities over 1898, but in most cases by less than in 1900. The vote in these states was also smaller in the aggregate than at the last presidential election. Ohio was the banner state and went republican by 100,000 which was a gain over two years ago. Pennsylvania was republican by 175,000 and New York was for Odell, republican by 15,000. Indiana also shows a decided gain of some four thousand over two years ago.

Staffordshire Houses.
The fancy for Staffordshire houses still continues, and ladies have taken to lighting up their drawing rooms with them. They put a tiny lamp inside, so that the light shall show through the windows of the diminutive house or castle. These houses were first made for candlesticks, and later on were chiefly used as pastille burners in the days when people thought it unwholly to ventilate a sick room.

New Data on Galileo's Trial.
Galileo was imprisoned by the Inquisition for maintaining that the earth moved. "How about the 1st of May?" he asked his judges, triumphantly. Chagrined at their open display of ignorance, they immediately released him, and he took his place in the van of science.—New York Sun.

THIRTEEN DEAD,
SEVENTY HURT

Explosion of Fireworks in a New York City Store Causes a Big Loss of Life.

FEARFUL ACCIDENT

Dead Are Blown to Pieces Through Carelessness of Clerks, Whom Police Cannot Find.

(Special by Scripps-Mellae.)

New York, Nov. 5.—Thirteen people were killed and seventy badly injured in an explosion of fireworks late last night in Madison square. The accident happened through the carelessness of two employees of the fireworks company who sold the goods.

Blow To Pieces
The dead were literally blown to pieces and ten of the victims, men and boys, have not yet been identified.

Dennis O'Hea, and Michael McGee, policemen, and Harold Roblee, son of the proprietor of the Barthold Hotel are the known dead.

No One Arrested
The police are still looking for the two employees of the company, as they are said to be responsible for the explosion. Thus far they have not been found.

REPUBLICANS GET

Two Distinguished Stage People.
Maad Hobson, an English actress who is being touted as "the most beautiful woman in the world," has arrived in New York. On the same steamer came an English actor, Herbert Sneath, who is called the richest actor in the world. He sticks to the stage because he likes it. Sneath is a crack polo player, a clever jockey and has many rich friends in this country.

May Make Professor Mayor.
There is some talk of nominating President Elliot of Harvard university as mayor of Cambridge, Mass.

ABOUT THE STATE

At LaCrosse almost no votes were cast by the women save by a few club members.

Officers were elected at Portage for the American Home Finding association of Wisconsin.

Capt. Frederick Pabst has been elected a trustee of the Layton Art Gallery of Milwaukee.

Thirteen recruits have been received at the naval recruiting station in Milwaukee since it was established on last Monday.

John Martin, a farmer living near Abnemos was severely bitten by a mad dog yesterday, and is in a very serious condition.

Charles Blise of the town of Sheridan has his hand completely ground off in a corn shredder and came near losing the entire arm.

Sir Thomas Shaugnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific railroad said that Milwaukee is an objective point of the road.

Application will be made by students at Lawrence University, Appleton, for a charter to the college fraternity of Phi Delta Theta.

George A. C. Gould, who was shot at Antigo in a quarrel with his brother-in-law is recovering from his injuries. His assailant has fled.

Numerous mail orders are being received for the production of Old Skinner's Lazzare at Milwaukee in the annual benefit of the Press Club.

John Preha, a Polish laborer at Milwaukee attempted to gain relief from his money troubles by shooting himself in the head. The injuries were not fatal.

The saloon of J. W. Downey at North Fond du Lac was entered and robbed of money in the cash register and a slot machine. Three men have been arrested on suspicion.

Two men at Collins, who were bitten by a mad dog which entered a dance hall Saturday night have gone to Chicago for treatment in the hope of averting any serious results.

The senior engineers at the State University have returned from their trip through the east to inspect the great factories and manufacturing concerns.

Conner has been received in Milwaukee of the death on a Chicago bound train of Arthur Anastas, a Greek tanner of that city, who was going to Chicago for medical treatment.

A project is now in view of establishing the state Cheese Board at Milwaukee. This matter will be acted upon at the convention of the Wisconsin Cheese Makers' association which will meet in Milwaukee in January.

George Rogers, one of the pioneer residents of Oshkosh, voted the Prohibition ticket yesterday and on returning from the polls suffered a stroke of paralysis from which he died.

Justice J. E. Dodge of the supreme court will preside as toastmaster at the monthly dinner of the Six O'clock club at Madison on Thursday night. The theme will be "Wisconsin Men in the World of Letters."

Earnest Behnke was killed and John McGowan seriously injured in a collision at Milwaukee between their wagons and a street car. One wagon had just crossed the tracks and the other was crossing when the impact came.

Louis Depew, a fifteen year old LaCrosse boy was arrested and confined in the city jail for stealing coal in the attempt to aid his parents. Owing to the circumstances surrounding his crime the prisoner will probably be released.

Safe blowers at Greenwood cracked the safe in the state bank and secured about six thousand dollars. A number of citizens went in pursuit, but although a number of shots were fired no one was injured and the desperadoes escaped.

Avoid Worry and Doctors.
Aunt Larissa Shaller, of Hamburg, Conn., who, at 102, is the oldest woman in Connecticut, gives this advice: "Don't fret and worry, and don't have anything to do with doctors. I never did and you can see the result. And then, too, you might say, 'Don't get married.' With a little laugh the old lady added: 'Not but what I might have been. I don't say I have not had others.'"

Government-Owned Railroads.
Nearly 90 per cent of Germany's railways belong to the government.

ROBERT M. LA FOLLETTE TO SERVE AS GOVERNOR FOR ANOTHER TERM

People of Wisconsin Reelect Him by a Plurality Estimated at From 40,000 to 50,000—Ran Behind the County Tickets—Cary Is Elected—State Legislature Is Republican.

Milwaukee, Nov. 5.—Governor La Follette has been re-elected Governor of the state of Wisconsin for two years more by a vote that will reach the neighborhood of forty-five thousand plurality. His victory at the polls yesterday ended one of the most hardy contested political fights in the state since the days of democratic rule. Not only did Governor La Follette carry the state but he also appears to have carried the city of Milwaukee by about five thousand.

RUNS BEHIND COUNTY TICKETS
While the Governor was elected by a forty thousand plurality he ran behind the rest of the ticket in many of the counties. Ten of the eleven congressmen were elected, Froelich being the only one defeated and his district was known to be a strong democratic one. The legislature is overwhelmingly republican and so is the senate. The one surprise of the election from a republican standpoint is the defeat of A. M. (Long) Jones of Waushara. Senator Jones was the conservative who had bitterly fought the Governor and his measures at the last session of the legislature and very recently came out for him and for the primary election bill proposed by him. His defeat is a great surprise.

GAINED DEMOCRATIC VOTES
An inspection of the vote as it was reported shows that both the heads of the tickets lost by the failure of the voters to cast ballots for the head of the ticket, skipping them and going down the list. In the gain of votes it appears that Governor LaFollette made the most and had more democratic votes than had Rose. Throughout the state the vote was light as compared to two years ago and even as to four years ago and while the Governor's majority is larger than in 1898 the total vote is smaller.

FEW WOMEN VOTED YESTERDAY
Reports from all parts of the state show that the vote of the women was very light and that with a few exceptions they voted very scatteringly for Mathie, although Cary was elected by the same majority as the rest of the ticket. The amendments seem to have been carried by about a two to one vote, though many did not vote at all on this question.

CLAIMS MUCH LARGER VOTE
Chairman Bryant is not satisfied with the present indications of forty-five thousand plurality and claims that the figures will reach into the neighborhood of fifty thousand easily when all the counties are heard from. Chairman Warden claims, however, that the plurality will be less than claimed and will not go over twenty-five thousand when all the returns from the northern tier of counties are in.

STATE SUMMARIES.
Alabama.
W. D. Jelks, Democrat, is elected governor with a large plurality and the whole state ticket is also elected. Indications are that the Democrats have been successful in all congressional districts but one. The estimated total Democratic plurality is 25,000.

California.
Early reports show that the Republicans have carried the state with a slightly reduced plurality over two years ago. Registrar Walsh made an early estimate on returns from San Francisco that Lane, Democrat, for governor would carry the city by 11,000. The plurality in the state is estimated at 20,000.

Colorado.
Meager returns from various sections of the state show an unusually heavy vote for an off year. Republican gains are generally reported. The people, the socialists and the socialist-labor parties had tickets in the field. Democrats claim a plurality of 15,000.

Connecticut.
Returns from Connecticut indicate the election of the entire Republican ticket by pluralities of 15,000. The returns also indicate that the state will return all four district congressmen, Republicans and a Republican congressman at large. The general assembly promises to be Republican, thus insuring the return to the United States senate of O. H. Platt.

Delaware.
There have been Democratic gains in Delaware. Returns from over half of the precincts in the first legislative district of Wilmington indicate the election of Dr. H. G. Buckmaster (Dem.) over James Hitehen (Rep.). This is a Democratic gain and counts against Addicks. The Democrats have undoubtedly elected representatives in the fourth and fifth districts. This gives the Democrats three of the five representative districts in Wilmington. The Democratic pluralities are estimated at 1,200.

Idaho.
Scattering returns from the southern part of the state show Morrison (Rep.) running ahead of Hunt (Dem.) for governor. The vote in the gentle precincts is largely Republican. The estimated plurality is 2,000.

Illinois.
Indications point to the election of the Republican state ticket by about 25,000 plurality. Busse is elected state treasurer. The Democrats are certain of six congressmen and possibly eight out of a total of twenty-five. Barrett is probably elected sheriff of Cook county. The Democrats gain in the legislature and also in the senate. The house will probably send 81 Republicans and 72 Democrats.

Indiana.
The chairman of the Republican state central committee predicts that Indiana will go Republican by 20,000. There were six tickets in the field. The Republicans have elected nine congressmen. The vote shows slight Republican losses throughout the state.

Iowa.
The Republicans have elected their state ticket throughout and the indications are that the Republicans have returned their full congressional delegation. The estimated pluralities are 60,000, a falling off of 20,000 from the vote of 1900.

Jasper Dane's Caller

By W. R. ROSE

THE door creaked very slightly, but it jarred on Jasper Dane's nerves. He looked up with a frown.

"Is this Mr. Dane?"

A young woman was framed in the doorway.

Jasper's frown slightly faded as he caught sight of her. She was a pretty young woman and charmingly gowned, and she wasn't more than one and twenty. Jasper avoided the woman's gaze of his paper. He couldn't have told what the young woman in the doorway wore, but he recognized the fact that it was a combination that seemed to be just suited to her.

"Mr. Dane, the editor?"

Jasper, pencil in hand, bowed again. The young woman advanced into the apartment.

"You are much younger than I supposed you to be," she said.

Jasper's eyes opened wider.

"I am not quite sure that I ought to take that as a compliment," he said.

He even smiled. Then the pressing character of his work reminded him. His features stiffened. He raised his pencil again, and looked at the girl severely.

"It's the very first time I was ever in an editor's sanctum," she said as her glance took in the dingy walls and the littered desk.

"How can I serve you, madam?" inquired Jasper.

The girl looked at him and she looked at the chair beside his desk.

"Thank you," she said, and sat down. Jasper sighed and stared at the half-written sheet before him.

"Are you sure it is the editor you want to see?" he asked. "The society editor is at the lower end of the hall. So are the musician, editor and the art

"I have written something," she said, "and I want to submit it to you." Jasper felt himself weakening. Ordinarily, he would have taken the manuscript, and hastily scribbling the writer's address on it, would have tossed it aside with the remark that he would communicate with the writer by mail concerning it—and then he would have resumed his work. Now he hesitated.

"What is the nature of the article?" he asked in what he fancied was an indifferent tone.

"It isn't an article," said the girl. "Do I look like a person who would write an article?"

She seemed to challenge his scrutiny. Jasper couldn't resist the temptation. He leaned a little farther back.

"It isn't always possible to judge by the appearance," he said.

"But I fancied article writers were always old, and—fussy, and—cranky," said the girl.

"There are exceptions," said Jasper. "There must be exceptions."

"I suppose you know," said the girl. "But it isn't an article."

"You arouse my worst fears," said Jasper as the girl spread out the manuscript.

"I think I understand what you mean," she said.

"I'm glad you do," said Jasper. "And I'm afraid your worst fears are confirmed," she said.

Jasper sighed.

"Then it is verses?" he said.

"I supposed it was poetry," said the girl.

"They always do," said Jasper. "The girl looked up at him with a pretty grimace.

"You are not a bit encouraging," she said.

"It's the better way," said Jasper. "And yet you write verses yourself," said the girl. "And get them printed, too."

"Perhaps it is because I haven't a friend honest enough to dissuade me," said Jasper. "I have had no time for that sort of nonsense lately, however."

"That's a pity," said the girl. "Don't think to soften me in that way," said Jasper.

"I like those lines beginning 'She came upon me unawares,'" said the girl. "I know them by heart. 'She came upon me unawares. I turned and she was there.'"

"I beg your pardon," cried Jasper. "It is your lines that are under consideration. Pray produce them."

The girl gave him a sidelong glance. "Did she come upon you unawares?" Mr. Dane?

Jasper caught the glance and slightly flushed. His look grew troubled again. "I live in hopes," he said.

"That's enigmatical," laughed the girl. "It shows you are not sure."

"I must object to your manifest intention to throw me into a sentimental mood," said Jasper. "It will not help you."

The girl laughed and passed the manuscript to him.

"I know you will like it," she said. "Why are you so certain?" Jasper asked.

"Because I haven't written on both sides of the paper," said the girl.

Jasper bent over the manuscript to hide his smile. Then his look changed. The smile faded. He read the lines with great care. Presently he looked up.

The girl had been regarding him intently. She met his eyes with an inquiring glance.

"You want me to be frank?" he said. "Of course."

"The lines are quite too sentimental. They are of the old school where sentiment reigned. Nowadays we bluntly call it gush."

"But it's not all bad, is it?" queried the girl.

"By no means," replied Jasper. "The execution is good. If the frigidities and affectations were dropped it would be very passable. If you would heed my advice—they never do—I might be tempted to ask you to try again."

He folded the manuscript and handed it to her.

"Thank you," said the girl. "I am sorry if my judgment seems harsh," said Jasper.

"It doesn't," said the girl. "I have tried to treat you as an honest friend should," said Jasper.

"Thank you again," said the girl. "I will admit that I hope to see my verses in your paper."

"Try again," said Jasper.

The girl arose and put out her dainty hand.

"I am glad to know you, Mr. Dane," she said. "I have a very dear friend who has sung your praises until I am quite jealous. I was really anxious to meet you. Good-by." Then she swiftly added with a charming smile: "I am sure we shall meet again."

The smile and the words quite overcame Jasper.

"I—I hope so," he fairly stammered as she arose to his feet and watched her flutter from the room.

As he resumed his seat a card upon the floor drew his attention. The girl had dropped it. He picked it up, caught sight of his name, and at once recognized the angular handwriting. Then he read it aloud:

"Dear Dane—This is my daughter Leonie, just come home from abroad. What she writes goes, of course. Yours, "LINAS LAMSON."

Dane softly whistled.

So this was Lamson's little girl, this splendid young woman! How charming she was, and how friendly. Had he hurt her feelings? What a brute he was! It would have been such a simple thing to publish the verses. And she never showed him her father's note. That was noble of her.

He picked up his pencil and bent over his work. And presently he softly hummed:

She came upon me unawares I turned and she was there. Cleveland Plain Dealer.

ATTRACTIVE STREETS.

Highways Should Be Wide and Houses Stand Well Back.

A narrow residential street may be a very attractive one if the houses stand well back from the street line, with pleasant grounds about them, says Sylvester Baxter in the September Century. In a growing town, however, the danger from such conditions comes with the inability to convert the street to business purposes or to erect more compactly disposed dwellings. If business comes in, the transition is commonly marked by jagged lines. Commercial structures, often of a cheap and undesirable aspect, are built out to the street, while the dwellings stand recessed back at irregular intervals.

And when at last the street is fully occupied for business purposes it is altogether too narrow. The roadway and sidewalks are cramped, and often a widening has to take place at the public expense. If built up closely to the line with dwellings, the street is likely to lack air and sunshine, and the tendency is toward squalid conditions.

An excellent remedy for these evils is offered in the Massachusetts law that empowers municipalities to establish building lines at any desired distance back from the street line. When such a line is established, no buildings can be erected on the intervening space. The municipality acquires an easement in this strip of land, which can still be used by the owner for anything but building purposes, and on the establishment of such a line owners may claim damages, as in case of takings for a street widening. It is, however, commonly of a benefit than a damage to have property thus restricted, for it assures a more permanently desirable character to the street, and in case a street widening should ever be called for no obstacles will stand in the way. By taking the restricted strips there will be ample room for the wider roadway and sidewalks.

Ideals for attractive street planning are to be found in many parts of the United States. There is nothing more charming as a rural street than that of a New England village at its best—lofty aisles of leafy, the trees with feet in a carpet of turf at the sidewalk border; the houses quiet and unobtrusive, standing well back and marked with the true home character, whether they are humble cottages or abodes of the rich. The noblest development of such rural streets is to be found in the old towns of the Connecticut valley and in western Massachusetts. There the main highways have an extraordinarily generous width, often giving room for quadruple rows of old elms and broad spaces of turf, the roadway requiring only a narrow space in the total width of the thoroughfare.

CLEAN TOWNS.

They Attract Home-seekers and Grow Very Rapidly.

It doesn't cost much and is very little trouble to keep a town clean if the citizens will co-operate and do their share in the matter. And there is no better advertisement for a town. Home-seekers will go to a clean town just as one will go to a clean store to buy his goods.

Of course the schools should be kept clean as an example to the young, and to prevent the lodgment and propagation of disease of any kind the streets and alleys ought to receive more careful attention. The latter especially are too often made the receptacles of all kinds of filth that in summer spreads infection broadcast. In cold weather the nuisance is almost as dangerous.

There must of necessity be a deal of mud and slush this winter on all our sidewalks, but if each household will exercise a little care in keeping the walk in front of his house properly cleaned the exceedingly unpleasant effects of it may be to a large extent overcome. If attention is given this matter, a necessary walk about town would be a pleasure instead of a regret, and sociability would be promoted. Nothing gives more agreeable first impressions of a city or town than the cleanliness of its streets, stores and public places, and it may draw to us many inhabitants and large investments.

Protection of Street Trees.

If a tree has been well scraped of the cocoons that contain the eggs, it may be protected from the caterpillars that are allowed to develop on neighboring trees by a band of tar or other viscid substance painted around the trunk and renewed from time to time so that it will not get dry. There is no perfect protection, however, since caterpillars suspend themselves by silk fibers of their own spinning and are wafted when thus suspended from an infected to a noninfected tree. An occasional spraying of the tree's leaves with a solution of paris green or London purple will poison the caterpillars without hurting the trees. All these precautions, if persevered in, would soon end the caterpillar pest.

Clubwomen Improve Village.

There is one woman's club in the country which does all its work in the summer—the Woman's Improvement Association of Point o' Woods, N. Y. It is made up of women from the summer cottage colony, many of them New York clubwomen. The society was organized four years ago for village improvement. Last summer it erected a memorial costing $700 to Margaret Fuller, whose death by shipwreck occurred off this point. This summer the society has built a fine pavilion on the shore. It sustains semi-weekly dances for the benefit of the young people and has in view a tennis court as the next object of its effort. It keeps a vigilant eye on the order, cleanliness and sanitation of the place.

APPRECIATES AMERICAN VALOR

British Government Thanks Captain McLean for Protecting Subject.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Through the state department the British government has returned thanks formally to Captain McLean, formerly commanding the Cincinnati, for the good offices extended by him to a British citizen, Charles Babb, who had been imprisoned in service of the rebels at Barcelona, Venezuela. Hearing of the case from another British subject, Captain McLean went with the Cincinnati from La Guaira to Guanta, twelve miles from Barcelona, proceeded inland to the rebel headquarters and secured the release of Babb, whom he brought away with him.

MILLIONS FOR THE TRANSVAAL

Estimate of Additional Sum Required to Comply With Treaty.

London, Nov. 5.—A civil-service estimate has been issued placing the additional amount required as a grant to add the Transvaal and Orange River colony during the present financial year at $49,000,000. The sum of $15,000,000 is to be devoted to grants to burghers, $10,000,000 to British sufferers by the war, and $15,000,000 is to be used for loans promised by the terms of surrender to aid in resettling the colonies.

Battle With Masked Robbers.

Greenwood, Wis., Nov. 5.—Robbers, four in number, wearing masks, effected an entrance to the State bank of Greenwood about midnight last night. Cashier Sherbrook, Fred Woolfinke, James Van Camp and others opened fire on the robbers. The latter replied vigorously and fought their way out of the building and to where their team was waiting, and disappeared. Bloodhounds were secured and a posse of fifty men took the trail. It is said the robbers secured over $6,000.

Election Day Death.

New York, Nov. 5.—Stephen Rooney of Brooklyn was fatally shot by Deputy Sheriff Joseph Scanlon, who is under arrest. The trouble grew out of a fight at a polling booth. Rooney was on the other side of the street and a wild shot struck him.

What's the secret of happy, vigorous health? Simply keeping the bowels, the stomach, the liver and the kidneys strong and active. Burdock's Blood Bitters does it.

Diphtheria relieved in twenty minutes. Almost miraculous. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. At any drug store.

"Little Colds" neglected—thousands of lives sacrificed every year. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures little colds—cures big ones too, down to the very verge of consumption.

Years of suffering relieved in a night. Itching piles yield at once to the curative properties of Doan's Ointment. Never fails. At any drug store, 50 cents.

The Art of Self-Defense.

The popular idea expressed in the phrase, "the art of self-defense," shows the opinion that the chief enemies a man has to defend himself from are visible and external. But the real danger of every man is from minute and often invisible foes. In the air we breathe and the water we drink are countless minute organisms leagued against the health of the body.

The one defense against these enemies is to keep the blood pure. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery thoroughly purifies the blood, removing poisonous substances and obstructions. When the blood is pure there is no harborage for the germs of disease which find a lodging only when the blood is impure and corrupt.

"I consider your 'Golden Medical Discovery' one of the best medicines on the face of the earth," writes Mr. Wm. H. Hester, of Keokuk, Monticello, Mo., Iowa. "While in the south-west, three years ago, I got poisoned with poison ivy. The poison seethed in my blood and the horrors I suffered cannot be told in words. I thought I would go crazy. I tried different kinds of medicine, tried different doctors, but all the relief they could give me was to make my pocket-book lighter. I then began taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Took four bottles without relief. Keep taking it. I took in all ten bottles and got entirely cured."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

RETAIL CLERKS PLAN WALK-OUT

OBJECT TO ATTEMPT TO KEEP OPEN WEDNESDAY.

BELOIT DEALERS THREATENED

Rumored Action of Clerks' Union To Fight Movement of Proprietors
Regarding Tonight.

Retail clothing merchants of Beloit will be on the anxious bench this evening until the regular hour for closing is past. It is rumored that at that time the clerks in all of those stores will walk out on a strike, and that if any further trouble is made they will stay out until the merchants come to terms. The dealers have announced that in the future they will keep their stores open on every other Wednesday evening, and this is making the trouble.

A recent change made by the John Thompson & Sons' Mfg. Co. is at the root of the matter. They have changed their pay day from Tuesday to the alternate Wednesdays of the month, and in order to accommodate their employees the clothing dealers wish to keep open their stores on those evenings, as well as on the two evenings in the week when they are regularly open.

As soon as the announcement of the additional open days was made the retail clerks' union, it is said, took action on the matter, feeling that the action of the dealers was only the first step towards keeping stores open every evening. It is reported that tonight, the first night when the new ruling on the part of the proprietors of these stores goes into effect, the clerks will leave the stores at the usual hours. What will come of that action remains to be seen.

FRED TAYLOR DIES OF LUNG TROUBLE

Popular Porter of the Grand Hotel
Was Summoned by Death at Midnight.

Fred W. Taylor was released from earthly pain and suffering last night at midnight, his death occurring at his home just outside the city limits near Milton avenue. Deceased had been ill with lung trouble for about a year. During the past summer his health failed so rapidly that he went to New Mexico but the climate did not agree with him and after spending six weeks in the South returned home about three weeks ago. Since that time the disease made rapid progress and his death was not unexpected. Had he lived until the ninth of next month he would have been twenty-eight years old. For a period of seven years, up to the time illness forced him to give up his work, Mr. Taylor was employed as porter at the Grand hotel and his happy disposition and never failing courtesy made him a favorite. He will be sadly missed by the traveling public which makes the Grand its Jansville home as well as by many friends in this city. Funeral services will be held from the home tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock.

TO USE OLD DEPOT AS STORAGE HOUSE

C. M. & St. P. Railway Company
Decides Not To Tear Down
The Old Passenger Station.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad company will not tear down the building that has served for so many years as a passenger station. It was first decided to tear down the building and get it out of the way, but lately the company has discovered that they need the building for storage purposes and that it can be moved to one side so as not to interfere with the tracks of the new station.

A force of men are employed by the company putting in the foundation for the building which will be moved about forty feet northwest of its present location towards Bluff street and put in good repair.

The people living in the vicinity of the building were in hopes that it would be taken away but it seems that they are to be disappointed and the station will remain near its present location.

Mr. and Mrs. Mert L. O'Neil, 35 Eastern avenue are happy over the arrival of a boy, Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith, Ruger avenue, welcomed a little daughter to their home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Charles Snyder and mother, Mrs. Fitzgibbon will spend the next three weeks in Chicago, the guests of relatives and friends.

Meet Thursday: Regular meeting of Laurel Lodge, Degree of Honor, Thursday, November 6, at East Side I. O. O. F. hall at 7:30. Card playing after meeting.

LINDEN AVENUE IS TO BE MADE WIDER

Fay Bump Transfers the Desired Strip of Land to the City of Jansville.

City Clerk Badger yesterday received from Fay Bump the deed of the strip of land along his property necessary for the improvement of Linden avenue. Some time ago the people residing on that street petitioned the council to widen the street and the work was finally ordered done. Appraisers were appointed to assess the value of the property and yesterday Mr. Bump made the transfer to the city.

GAME WILL BE PUT OFF UNTIL LATER

High School Sophomores and Seniors
Will Struggle for Supremacy
When Elements Are Favorable

Owing to the wet weather it was found necessary to postpone the football game which was to have been played today between the high school Sophomores and the Seniors. The game will probably be played at some later date this week, but no decision has yet been reached. In the interim which it has attracted among the students, of the high school this contest can probably be classed as the most important of the season, deciding as it does the holder of the Benson cup for this year.

Remarkable Surgical Case
From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

A few days ago a Miss Death was brought to the German Hospital to be operated upon for appendicitis. She was a daughter, she said, of an undertaker.

The surgeon's name who was chosen to perform the operation was Dr. Frank Hackett, Dye.

When the operation was over Miss Death was placed in the charge of two nurses.

Miss Payne is the day nurse; Miss Grose the night nurse.

The patient is recovering rapidly, and in a week or so Miss Death will bid good-bye to Dr. Dye, Miss Payne and Miss Grose.

Indian's Neat Retort.
One of the most richly deserved retorts I have ever met with was that of a Sioux girl at the Hampton Institute not long since. A silly visitor to the school went up to the magnificent red-skinned belle and said: "Are you civilized?" The Sioux raised her head from her work slowly—she was fashioning a breadboard at the moment—and replied, "No; are you?"

Makes a Queer Pedigree.
A headline writer on the News asserts that Nicholas Fish, who died from the effect of injuries received in a drunken brawl, "was the son of Grant's secretary of state and of Gotham's 400." This is a pedigree quite as remarkable as that of the Taylor pup in Eugene Field's ballad, which was "sired of such a noble sire and damned by every one."—Detroit Free Press.

Where Journalist Scored.
One of the keenest of journalists and wife, Moritz Gottlieb Saphir, had the better of the irate stranger against whom he ran by accident, at the corner of a street in Munich. "Beast," cried the offended person, without waiting for an apology. "Thank you," said the journalist, "and mine is Saphir."

Umbrellas Denote Power.
In Slam a magnate's dignity and power are reckoned according to the number of umbrellas he possesses. One of these magnates is proud to begin his titles with "Lord of Thirty-seven Umbrellas." Among certain African tribes the grandeur of the individual increases with the size and not with the number of umbrellas he possesses.

COUNTY CARRIED BY REPUBLICANS

ROCK GIVES GOVERNOR LA FOLLETTE A FAIR MAJORITY.

COOPER'S PLURALITY LARGER

Republicans Send Three Loyal Spooner Men to the Assembly and Elect County Ticket.

Rock county has given Governor La Follette a majority of 1,539 with the towns of Bradford, Harmony, Jansville, LaPrairie, Lima and Porter yet to be heard from. Congressman Cooper has a majority of 2,434, the same towns being missing throughout the rest of the list.

For Assembly
In the First district White has a majority of 910 over Thorpe. In the second Valentine defeated Ryan by 376 votes and in the third Brittan was elected by 1,570 votes. These men are all for the re-election of Senator Spooner.

The County Ticket
For Sheriff, George Appleby has thus far received 4,167 votes to Broughton's 2,198, giving him a majority of 2,419. Present County Clerk Starr received 4,478 to Smith 2,023, making a majority of 2,455. Clerk of the Court Goldin received 3,925 votes to Bush's 2,889, giving him a plurality of 1,046.

Miles Rice, the county treasurer, was re-elected by 4,404 votes to his opponent's 2,019, giving him a majority of 2,385. Register of Deeds Weirich received 4,435 votes to Rogers 2,015, making his plurality 2,390. Jackson, for district attorney received 4,481 votes to Oestreich's 2,038, making his majority 2,443.

For County Surveyor, Korsh defeated Branigan, his plurality being 2,396, and for corner Hanau defeated Williams by 2,427. There being no opposition to School Superintendents Hemmingsway and Antisdell, they can be figured on as receiving about the same vote as the republican ticket.

The amendments seem to have carried but a full report on that vote has not yet been received.

Vote For Harvey
In the town of Fulton ten votes were cast for Superintendent Harvey for the superintendent of schools.

Throughout the county the vote of the women was very light and from indications the majority for Mathle in place of Carey.

APPEALED CASE IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Jury Trial Demanded in Catherine Egan's Damage Suit Against Edward Kleebe.

The civil action for injuries in which Catherine Egan is plaintiff and Edward Kleebe, defendant, was called this morning in the municipal court. The case is an appeal from a judgment rendered in Justice Reeder's court on September 23, whereby the defendant was assessed $25 and costs. Kleebe did not show up when the case was called against him in Reeder's court and judgment was rendered against him by default.

A jury trial was demanded this morning and Judge Fifield issued a venire for a jury from the body of the county which is returnable on Friday morning at eleven o'clock.

Mrs. Egan's property adjoins Kleebe's and she claims that Kleebe spent much time throwing stones over the fence into her yard and against her house, breaking the windows and causing considerable damage. She asks $25 damages and if successful in this action may bring a criminal suit against the defendant.

Ralph Adair and Jesse Earle appear for the plaintiff and M. O. Mount of Fother's, Jeffers & Mount is conducting the defense.

REPUBLICANS TO CONTROL NATION

Party Retains a Majority in Both the Senate and the House of Representatives.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.)
Washington, Nov. 5.—From present indications the next congress will be republican by a majority of twenty in the house of representatives and eighteen in the senate. This will give the republican party a working majority that will permit of the control of the party on all national issues.

In most of the states the representations have been increased and in accordance with the increased number of congressmen the republicans still keep the same ratio as they have in the past and show no depreciable loss. This being an off year it was expected that the democrats would make larger gains than they have and but with the exception of some districts in Pennsylvania and New York the republicans held their own throughout the country making gains in the west that offset their loss in the east.

ONE ADJOURNMENT AND TWO JUDGMENTS

Result of Work in the Justice Courts Today—Decision Given for Bill for Feud.

Justice Earle gave a decision today for H. Richter and W. Richter against Sidney Carhart for $36.40. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad were garnished in the case. In the same court the case of R. J. Richardson against B. D. Riley was called and adjourned for one week.

In Justice Reeder's court decision was given for Thomas S. Nolan against Frank Reynolds for $12.73 and costs, the bill being for feed purchased of the Northern Grain company.

LYRIC GLEE CLUB WILL OPEN COURSE

Seventeenth Season of the People's Lecture Course—Extra Costly Attractions for This Season.

On Wednesday of next week will open the Seventeenth season of the People's Lecture Course and the Milwaukee Lyric Glee club under the leadership of Prof. Daniel Protheroe is the attraction. The course this year as now made up is an unusually strong one and much satisfaction is expressed by its patrons over the talent secured. The second number of the course is perhaps attracting as much attention as any and deservedly so it being Miss Margaret Haley of Chicago. Many of our people watched the remarkable fight which this school teacher put up against the corporate power which was seeking to evade taxation in Chicago and will be glad of the opportunity of hearing the thrilling story from her own lips. Miss Haley is one of the few people on the platform today who have actually accomplished something for the good of the masses and it is always a pleasure to see and hear these kind of people.

It is just by luck that the management of the People's course can offer her as an attraction and the date for her is to appear, Dec. 14th, was the only time she could come in the entire winter which goes to show how her time is taken up. The balance of the course is just as strong as the above two attractions and the fact that tickets are already being demanded shows what the public think of it.

TWENTY-TWO TO TWENTY IS SCORE

WHITES LEAD IN BASKET BALL
CHAMPIONSHIP PLAY.

INTERMEDIATES HAVE STARTED

All Athletic Activities at the Y. M. C. A.
Building Are in Flourishing Condition.

In all of the gymnasium classes at the Y. M. C. A. building the men have settled down to a steady pace of hard work. Each class is constantly gaining new recruits, and within the last week one new class has been started.

The league bowling contests in connection with the association will probably be started at an early date, as soon as the alleys are in condition.

Whites Are Ahead
In the Junior class the squads have kept up their series of match indoor base ball and basketball games. Nine matches in the tournament series have been played off, and as the teams now stand the Whites lead the list with the Blues a close second. The other two squads tie for third place. The scores now stand as follows: Whites, 22; Blues, 20; Grays, 12; Reds, 12.

Intermediates Begin
On last Saturday the first intermediate class of the season was held. Up to that time the boys who would regularly have been assigned to that division have been put in either the Senior or Junior class. From now on they will hold their classes by themselves. Their work will be livelier at present with a series of tournament contests.

McLean and Jones Captains
At the outset the volleyball games will be played. The class will be divided into two teams under the captaincy of John McLean and Harold Jones and they will contend in that new hand ball tennis game until the first novelty has worn off, and then basketball ball will be taken up. The percentages will be taken of the season's playing.

Over twenty names have already been secured for the league bowling tourney which will begin in a short time. One of the alleys is now disabled while it is undergoing a thorough shellacking and redressing, and as soon as it is in condition for use, the other will undergo a similar process. Each alley will be put in as nearly perfect condition as possible before the championship play begins.

LATEST ELECTION REPORTS COVERING ALL THE STATES

Results of Tuesday's Balloting as Announced by Officials in Charge of the Polls.

FIFTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS.
House.
Republicans	207
Democrats	179
Republican majority	23
Republican loss from 57th Congress	13
Senate.
Republicans	53
Democrats	37
Republican majority	16

Washington, Nov. 5.—The Republican party will control the next house of representatives by a generous margin. Incomplete returns indicated that the Republican majority will not be less than twenty-five. The present Republican majority is forty-one. Revised returns may change the total of the dominant party's majority, but the change probably will be very slight.

Boies Claims Victory.
The Republicans gain seats in Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Indiana, Nebraska, Kansas and a number of other states. According to present dispatches from Iowa they may lose the Third and Sixth districts. Former Governor Boies claims a victory over Judge Birdsall, his Republican opponent in the Third district, but complete returns may prove the claim to be unfounded. The ex-governor made a brilliant race in the river county of Dubuque, but lost his own county of Blackhawk by a margin of 700.

Sixth Iowa.
The Democratic managers in the Sixth district are confidently claiming the election of John P. Reese over Representative J. F. Lacey. The Sixth contains Iowa's coal belt and has a large mining population. Heretofore the miners have elected Lacey by voting almost solidly for him. This year they refused to follow his leadership for a number of reasons and it is not improbable that the early returns indicating Lacey's defeat will be borne out by complete returns.

Greater New York Is Democratic.
The Democrats apparently have carried every congressional district in greater New York, but elected only two members of their party in the districts lying above Bronx. New Jersey was a disappointment to Mr. Griggs and his associates. They had confidently counted on carrying at least four districts in that state, and the returns indicate that they have been successful in but one district, the Ninth, where Allen L. McDermott has been re-elected.

Quay Is Triumphant.
Pennsylvania, in spite of the pessimism of Quay and his friends, has returned an old-time Republican majority, which is estimated at 160,000, and elected twenty-seven out of a possible thirty-two candidates for congress. If the coal strike was threatening to the Quay machine before President Roosevelt forced a settlement the president's action seems to have restored the Republican equilibrium. The victory on paper appears to be one of the greatest in the history of the state. McKinley carried Pennsylvania by 209,000, but no Republican candidate for governor in an off year ever carried it by over 100,000.

Maryland elects two Democratic members of congress out of a possible six.

Defeat for Addicks.
Delaware has gone Democratic by an estimated majority of nearly 5,000. Addicks and his faction have been completely wiped out. The Democrats have elected not only their members of congress, but will be in control of the next legislature by a safe working majority. Unless the Republican factions can get together and agree upon candidates for the United States senate the Democrats will elect men to fill the two existing vacancies.

Loud Is Unseated.
Advices from San Francisco indicate that Representatives Kahn and Loud have been defeated by candidates representing a fusion organization. The defeat of Loud is largely attributable to the opposition of the postoffice employees of the country, whose bills for higher pay and shorter hours he has been largely instrumental in suppressing. Early in the campaign the Letters Carriers' association visited California for the avowed purpose of arousing the labor element in Mr. Loud's district against his candidacy. The letter carriers, railway mail clerks and kindred associations contributed extensively to the campaign fund of Mr. Loud's opponent.

Elect a Millionaire.
In West Virginia there is a strong probability that Representative Alston G. Dayton has been defeated by his millionaire opponent, McGraw, who was once a candidate for senator to succeed Stephen B. Elkins.

The election of "Uncle Joe" Cannon in the Eighteenth district means that he will succeed Col. Henderson as speaker of the next house. There is very little likelihood that he will have any opposition in his own party that will cause him the slightest concern.

Coler's Good Run.
The race made by Mr. Coler in the state of New York can be attributed chiefly to the reappearance of former President Cleveland in Democratic politics. Mr. Cleveland's conduct in coming forward as an advocate of Mr. Coler's election had the effect of restoring to the membership of the Democratic party of New York thousands of business men.

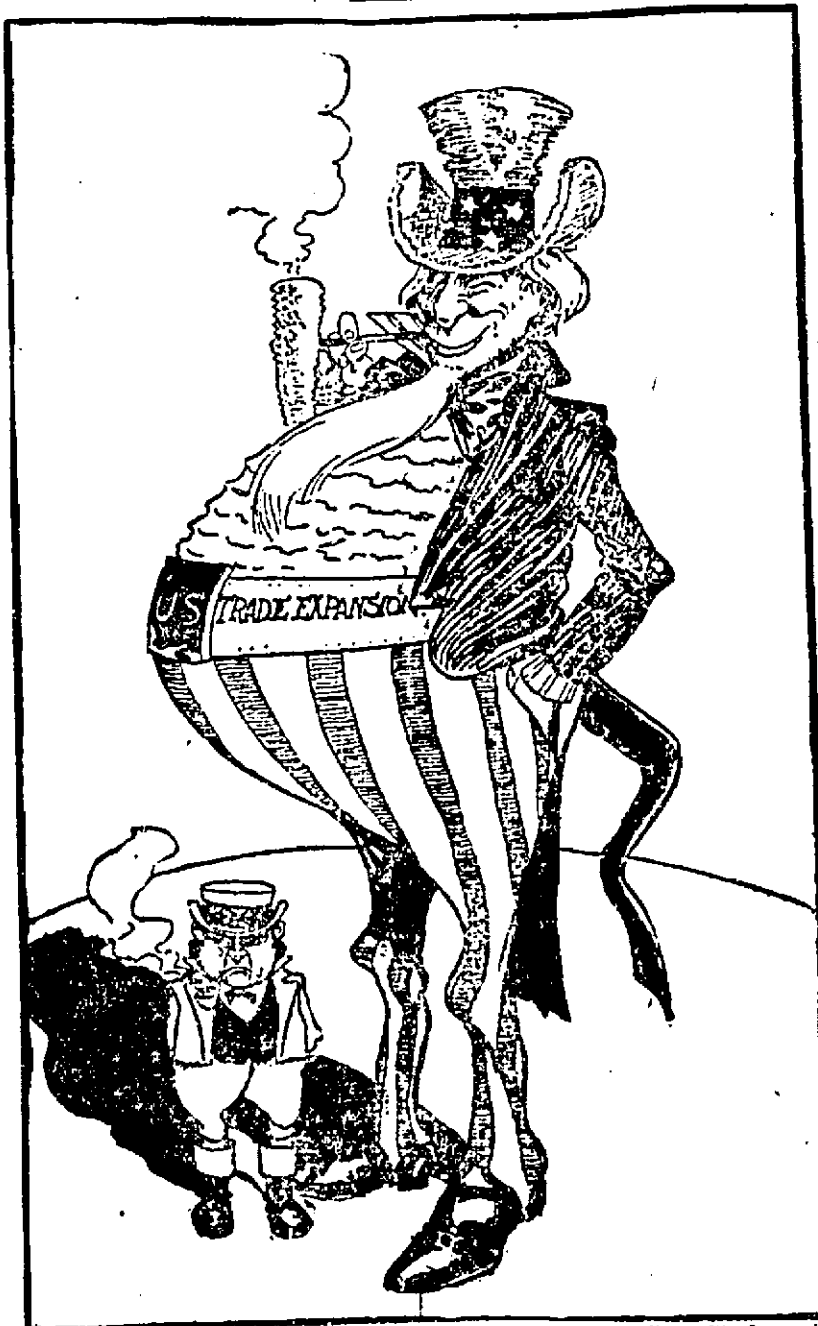

Murderer Takes Poison.
Harris at once dropped his shotgun and jumped into Mr. Johnson's buggy. He drove away at a rapid rate, but was apprehended later by the deputy sheriff, who was a witness of the murder. The body of Mr. Johnson was taken to Newton and Harris was lodged in jail at the same town. There was considerable excitement among the citizens and for a time there was talk of a lynching.

It would appear, however, that Harris had prepared for a desperate emergency in case he killed Johnson and was placed in peril and could not escape. This developed when a guard visited his cell a short time after his incarceration. The guard was horrified to find the prisoner dead. A dose of poison had ended his career, and the opinion is expressed that, fearing he would be lynched, Harris deliberately took his own life.

Prohibition Leader.
Hale Johnson was one of the leading members of the Prohibition party in the United States. He came to the front in 1896, when he was nominated for governor of Illinois at the Prohibition convention held in Springfield. Later, when Joshua Levering was named as candidate for President on the Prohibition ticket, it was decided that no better man could be secured for the Vice Presidential candidacy than Mr. Johnson.

Before he became prominent as a Prohibitionist Mr. Johnson was a strong Republican, and was conspicuous in Southern Illinois politics until 1882, when he and others bolted the Republican state convention because the gathering would not pledge the party to submit a prohibition against national amendment to the vote of the people.

Was Gifted Speaker.
He was nominated for attorney general of the state in 1884, and ran ahead of his ticket. Mr. Johnson was chairman of the state central committee of the Prohibition party for the last four years.

New Korean Minister.
Seoul, Korea, Nov. 5.—Chop-Yong Shin has been appointed foreign minister. He is a pro-Russian.

Accepts Carnegie Library.
Montreal, Nov. 5.—The city council has accepted Andrew Carnegie's offer of $150,000 for a free library building and at the meeting to be held in December will vote the first installment of $15,000 for books, the condition of the gift.

Find Bodies in Canal.
Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 5.—The bodies of a man and a woman strapped together were found in the Oswego canal here. Their identity is unknown. The man was about 65 years old and the woman considerably younger.

Under Five Sovereigns.
Montreal, Nov. 4.—M. Elizabeth O'Reilly, who had lived in three centuries and under five sovereigns of Great Britain, died here, aged 107 years. Mme. O'Reilly was born in Ireland and came to Canada when an infant.

Doctors to Be State Officials.
Vienna, Nov. 5.—The Russian minister of the interior is advocating that doctors and chemists in the country be made state officials. A commission has been appointed and is now considering the project.

Pioneer Spiritualist Dies.
Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Mrs. Maria Fox Smith, the last member of the family of Fox sisters, the originators of modern spiritualism, died at Newark, N. Y., at the age of 85 years.

Doctor Takes Poison.
New York, Nov. 5.—Dr. G. I. Cook, said to have practiced medicine in Ohio for thirty years, is dead at the New York hospital from morphine poisoning. He was 73 years old.

Grand Master Sanders Dies.
Pittsfield, Ill., Nov. 5.—A. D. Sanders, proprietor of the Pittsfield House and past grand master of the I. O. O. F. of Illinois, is dead.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills
Saved Him.

"We began to use Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills six years ago. My wife had liver trouble and a neighbor gave her some of your liver pills to try, after which we bought a bottle of them and my wife used them until cured. Since then I have used them and I must say that I have never used any pills that gave me the satisfaction these have. We also use Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills with greatest satisfaction. Three years ago our son Harry had inflammatory rheumatism. He had suffered so much that I believe if we had not given him Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills which relieved him almost instantly he would have died. I am always glad of the opportunity for praising Dr. Miles' Remedies."—James Everett, Alton, Ill.

"I was afflicted with neuralgia for years and never found any permanent relief till I began using Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They are a sure cure for headache and neuralgic pains. Only this morning I recommended them to a friend with a severe headache and in a half hour he came into the store smiling. The headache was gone. We use them in the family and find them excellent for the women folk. This high altitude makes them very nervous. Grandma says I should tell Dr. Miles she could not live here were it not for the Anti-Pain Pills that she takes occasionally."—L. B. Morris, Helena, Montana.

MISS MAY MARKELL,

A Society Belle of London, Canada.

MISS MAY MARKELL of London, Ontario, Canada, is a beautiful girl who knows what suffering is and Wine of Cardui has brought her back to health. She is one of the social favorites of her home and her recovery to health has permitted her to enjoy the company of her many friends instead of lying on a bed of sickness and suffering. For the health she now enjoys she gives credit to Wine of Cardui. She writes:

Miss May Markell.

"I have found Wine of Cardui an excellent remedy for female trouble. I suffered for three years with terrible bearing down pains at the menstrual period. I could hardly stand on my feet and was never real well. Wine of Cardui was the only medicine that I could depend on to do me any good, as I tried several with no success. Wine of Cardui cured me and I have now enjoyed perfect health for two years, and give you all the credit for I know you deserve it."

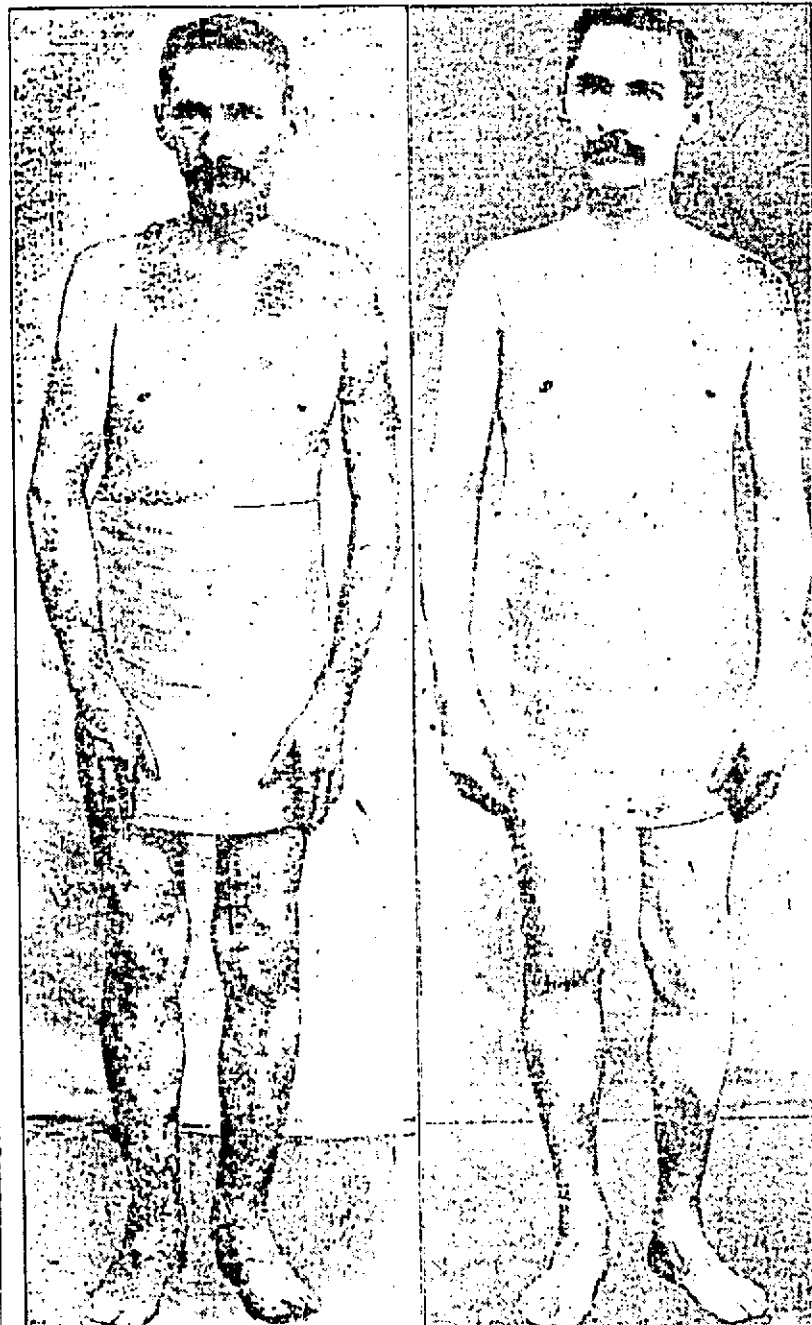

For a young girl Wine of Cardui is the best remedy to guide her through womanhood by starting the menstrual flow in a healthy and natural manner. Menstruation started right is very easy to keep regular through the years of mature womanhood. Then the "change of life" need not be feared. Thus Wine of Cardui is woman's best relief from youth to old age. A million women have secured blessed relief from their sufferings by taking this treatment. It relieves menstrual troubles in an incredibly short time. In a simple case of deranged menses Wine of Cardui never fails. To relieve disordered menses is to remove the cause of other female troubles. Any physician will tell you that to remove the cause of a disease renders the cure easy, in fact seldom fails to complete the cure. If you would have the same relief which Miss Markell secured try Wine of Cardui. You can take it without an examination and without any publicity whatever. You can take it in the privacy of your home and secure just as much benefit as if a doctor had prescribed it for you. Thousands of women are feeling the vigor of returning health by taking Wine of Cardui.

WINE of CARDUI

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

SAVED FROM SUICIDE

In the case shown by above photographs, the sufferer, Mr. Henry Kensler of Pittsfield, Ill., was in a desperate state from eczema which had continued for over ten years, becoming steadily worse and worse each year in spite of all doctoring possible. Life seemed hopeless and suicide was often thought of.

Seeing an account in a newspaper a short time ago of a remarkable case of eczema cured by D. D. D., Mr. Kensler tried it. He wrote in to the D. D. D. Company offering to be photographed and to permit publication of his photo if they would guarantee the remedy to cure him as completely as in the case he had read of. From the first use of it he states that all itching and distress disappeared. And in three weeks' time the skin healed over in every spot where affected. In a short time (it was a matter of only a very few days) the proper, white, natural, smooth state of skin was restored, and there has never been any recurring sign of the disease anywhere on his body.

Started In Few Small Spots.

The persistent spreading and tenacity of this disease are seen in this case. First one and then another small spot showed. Nothing could drive them away. Slowly the limbs became covered and the neck and back. He fought hard to save the face, but that next was covered and told the story of his misery to the world. Then the hair became encrusted with it. Small beginnings were showing almost everywhere else on the body, hardly a square inch being free from it. In a few months the man would undoubtedly be one wretched, writhing scab had D. D. D. not conquered the disease. With his tortures already experienced and with this future staring him in the face, what wonder is it that suicide seemed inviting.

A wonderful particular of this case (as seen in all cases more or less) is that the worst big sores were the first to give way to the treatment, while the disease lurking under the skin held on longest. Twenty-one days, however, cleared out the whole affection—every germ of it.

We Vouch For Above.

The facts in this case of Mr. Henry Kensler of Pittsfield, Ill., have been laid before me in all details with proofs that are unmistakable. Every particular in the history of this remarkable cure more than bears out the above statement of the case. From the proofs submitted, we feel that this announcement comes far from doing full justice to the remarkable merit of a medicine which accomplishes results so important to humanity.

Since we have handled the preparation in this city, a great number of people have used it for various skin affections. Its results have been invariably satisfactory. We are therefore willing to guarantee any purchaser full return of his $1.00, if satisfactory results are not experienced from a trial of a bottle in any case of skin affection.

HARRY DANIEL'S MINOR OBSERVATIONS

Copyright, 1902, by Harry Daniel and a low alto voice that needed cultivation, but recently some pretty had stories have come out on him. It is stated now that the mosquito carries measles, mumps, whooping cough, every-other-day ague, spavin, barometrical bunions, chilblains, dandruff, latest styles of rash, heartburn, inflammation of the temper and gaps. And so the scientists have decided by a rising vote that he must join the silent majority.

"The safety and perpetuity of our nation demands that the mosquito be exterminated," says one of the scientific reports on the question. "Spreading, as he does, every disease known from membranous croup to moroseness of character, he has become one of the greatest dangers of which our republic stands in peril, and it is imperative that his race be wiped out at once."

"The mosquito does not come out in a fair hand-to-hand fight, but employs the most furtive and surreptitious methods, stealing into the bedchamber in the still hours of the night and sucking two or three pounds of spinal meningitis into a man's system, slipping quietly to the crib of a sleeping babe and giving it the heaves or torpidity of the liver, or typhoid up to an old and infirm yet prominent citizen and giving him cholera infantum while he is looking the other way. There is no note of warning, no signal of approaching danger. While the victim is wrapped in gentle dreams the mosquito steals upon him and plunges a case of gout or a spell of inflammatory rheumatism deep into his quivering flesh. Then there is a loud and impressive snort of pain, a partial awakening, a yell for the police, a call for the fire department, a kicking off of the bed clothes, and a wild, fearless leap into the dark. And as the victim makes a light and a few pale blue remarks, a small, weird alto voice floats out through the casement and on into the starry night. And thus the mosquito goes from house to house, thrusting a poisoned fang here, delivering a package of lumbago there and leaving a supply of chilblains or barber's itch at the house round the corner."

And with these words of warning ringing in its ears, our government has assumed the task of introducing death in a scientific form into the ranks of our mosquitoes. A corps of scientists have been retained and they are at present making a study of the home life of the mosquito with a view of ascertaining in what form death can be made most stylish and popular among his race. It is a grand work into which our nation has entered and it is all the more noble because, up to the present time, politics and sectional strife have not entered into it. To-day we stand as one united people, with the same glorious old flag waving o'er us all and the same welts on our features, facing a common foe. We may have our differences of opinion in regard to other national matters, but when it comes to the question of exterminating the mosquito we find ourselves hopelessly unable to disagree.

We may differ somewhat in regard to our views of the Philippine question; we may argue the Cuban problem with statistics, documentary evidence or an ax handle; we may defend the beet, the glorious, red and gory sugar beet, first with one fist and then with the other; and we may calmly and logically present our views on the reciprocity question with the toe of our boot, but when we come to the question of the national extermination of the mosquito we lay aside all animosity.

"While the Panama canal still consists largely of about 46 miles of strenuous and unavailing international legislation," the forthcoming presidential message to congress will say: "We, as a nation, need not be discouraged, for a more important undertaking has been launched. The mosquito, the strenuous pack peddler of every malady mentioned in the almanac, is rapidly being thinned out. Our strenuous scientists, club in hand, are exterminating him as rapidly as their salaries will permit, and I believe that I am not jamming myself into the ranks of our clairvoyants too strenuously when I say that from where I am now sitting I can plainly see the day when the lawn fete and the ice cream barbecue will have to be pulled off without him, and the Sabbath school picnic will be compelled to worry along without his use, for he shall exist only as a pink and irritated remembrance."

Harry Daniel

Brutal to Women.

Whenever a woman is acquitted of charges of matrimonial misconduct there are always those who sneer at the weakness of the law, at least toward women. This apparent partiality could be explained in a number of recent suits which have come under our observation by the extraordinary brutality and coarseness with which the opposing counsel have attacked the women in the case, even though there was a fairly even balance between the evidence of innocence and of guilt.—N. Y. Sun.

STATE SUMMARIES.

ticket will win with about 5,000 plurality.

New York.

Cole's estimated plurality in great or New York 120,000. Odell's plurality in the state will be 130,000, thus electing him by about 10,000 plurality. This shows a Republican loss of 130,000 from the election of 1900. The Democrats show an increase in the number of congressmen.

North Carolina.

Returns indicate that the Democrats are again successful in North Carolina, with an estimated plurality of 25,000. T. Walter Clark (Dem.) is safely elected chief justice of the supreme court. The people voted for superintendent of public instruction and corporation commissioner as well. Two years ago the state went Democratic by over 24,000.

North Dakota.

Frank White (Rep.) is undoubtedly elected governor of North Dakota. The state ticket is also elected and the congressional outlook is favorable to the Republicans. The Republican plurality is 10,000.

Ohio.

The Republican state committee of Ohio estimates that the Republican plurality in that state will be over 100,000, a gain of between 30,000 and 40,000 over last year. The Democratic state committee claims a gain in congressmen. The Republicans claim the election of seventeen out of twenty-one congressmen.

Pennsylvania.

The Republicans are claiming the state by largely increased majorities. The state central committee claims that Pennypacker is elected governor by 175,000 plurality. The Republicans carried the state by 131,000 two years ago. The legislature will be largely Republican.

Rhode Island.

C. D. Kimball, Republican, is undoubtedly elected governor. The Republican state ticket was successful, with a plurality of about 2,900.

South Carolina.

South Carolina elected full state and congressional tickets, there being little opposition. The Democratic plurality is estimated at 40,000. The vote was light.

South Dakota.

The Republicans carry the state by an estimated plurality of 15,000, a slight gain over the Presidential vote of 1900. J. W. Martin is elected governor.

Tennessee.

Returns indicate that Tennessee has gone Democratic this year by 50,000. J. B. Frazier, Democratic candidate for governor, and J. N. Kenzie as railroad commissioner are elected by increased pluralities. The Prohibitionists had a candidate in the field for governor. In 1900 the Democrats won with 23,557 plurality. The Republicans elect congressmen in the First and Second districts.

Texas.

The Democrats have elected S. W. T. Lanham governor with an estimated plurality of 100,000. The full state ticket is elected. Democrats were victorious in all congressional districts also with large pluralities.

Utah.

Menger returns received last indicate that the Democrats have carried the state by a plurality of 2,500 for Supreme court judge. The legislature vote is likely to be very close.

Wisconsin.

Late returns indicate that La Follette has been elected governor by a plurality of 35,000. Congressional returns are meager, but they indicate the election of ten Republicans and one Democrat. The legislature will probably be Republican. There was a big falling off from the Republican vote of 1900, which gave the Republican ticket a plurality of 106,000.

Wyoming.

State returns for Wyoming give the Republicans approximately a plurality on the state ticket of 3,700. A Republican congressman is elected in the First district. Legislature on joint ballot is: Democratic, 10; Republican, 63. De Forest Richards is elected governor.

Georgia Re-Elects Clay.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 5.—The Georgia legislature, in joint session re-elected United States Senator Alexander S. Clay for the full term of six years. Senator Clay received 171 votes and Walter Johnson of Atlanta, Republican, 4.

"Isles of Safety."

New York is to have "isles of safety" to be located at congested points of traffic. They are really harbors of refuge for citizens engaged in dodging street cars, and will afford infinite amusement to the drivers of the merry cable car. If the car catches the passenger before he lands on an isle of safety he's it, and they call the meat wagon.

Chamberlain Indorses Theaters.

Mr. Chamberlain in a letter to the vicar of Gorleston, England, has expressed his sympathy with a scheme for running theaters in connection with the churches of country villages, saying that he is always pleased to hear of anything that is being done for the people in the way of bringing light and happiness into their lives.

He Never Called Again.

Cassidy (proudly): "Come, now; did you ever see such a baby as that before?" Casey: "Sure, an' I can't remember, Cassidy. I haven't bin to a freak museum or a sold-show for twenty years."
